

Buzzy Bees December Newsletter 2009

Dear Parents,

The month of November was really great for our little Buzzy Bees. Our themes covered forest animals, jobs in our neighborhood, the color brown and the Thanksgiving holiday. From these themes we looked more closely at many different animals and their home environments, what kind of jobs people can have along with their uniforms, tools and special signs to recognize them. We looked at the color brown, brown objects and foods, and finally the Thanksgiving story and symbols, and what we eat at Thanksgiving.

We also did many beautiful projects and learned many new songs. As this is our third month together, the children have finally become comfortable with the class routine, become comfortable playing together and therefore participate in all activities together. We are so happy to hear their voices come out during circle-time, hear them talking to each other and laughing. Now we can really see how much they enjoy it here.

In December we will have 3 weeks to prepare for the holiday party. We will learn many new songs and do many projects to decorate the rooms for a great holiday atmosphere. We will also have some special days of celebration as follows:

December 4th: St. Nicholas comes
December 11th: gold and silver day
December 17th and 18th: holiday parties
December 18th: last day of school – (half day, 'till 1:00)

We will also be celebrating a few V.I.K.s and one birthday.
What a festive month!

We look forward to these last weeks together.
